MAVIANS PARTICIPATE IN YOUTH PARLIAMENTARY SESSION

The students of Maharaja Agrasen Vidyalaya, studying in class X, organised a mock parliamentary session. The basic aim of the session was to empower the younger generation to take an interest in the political atmosphere. The program was conducted under the guidance of the respective coordinating teachers. The main agenda of the discussion revolved around 'enhancing the education curriculum through incorporating foreign educational policies.' There were several delegates representing different countries, namely America, Canada, Costa Rica, Israel, Norway, Russia, Finland, Japan, Germany, the United Kingdom, and tralia. Moreover, there were three panellists representing the Indian Government, whose roles were to assess and approve beneficial suggestions for the betterment of the educational status of the nation.

After a thorough consideration of educational policies worldwide, students put forth their views. Many ideas emphasised education as the foundation of a society and the key to its success. The panel discussion was followed by a question-and-answer session moderated by the panellists. The questions mainly revolved around the mindset of students regarding education, exams, the importance of education in an individual's life and the various strategies to introduce such new educational policies. However, after much comprehensive discussion on the agenda, the session was unable to reach an outcome and therefore, was concluded with a no-change verdict.
